THE SUGAR CONFERENCE.

The most interesting as well as important news for this country brought by to-day's steamer from California is doubtless that pertaining to the sugar situation. It is well-known that between the effects of the McKinley Act and the operations of the Sugar Trust, Hawaiian planters had a rather critical prospect for the profitable marketing of their sugar. While the steamer Australia was at San Francisco a conference was held between Mr. Claus Spreckels and stockholders of the Western Sugar Refinery on the one hand, and representatives of the leading plantation interests of this country outside of the Spreckels' clientele, hitherto, on the other hand. Besides the gentlemen who went over from here to the conference, there came to it Mr. Theo. H. Davies from England, Mr. P. C. Jones from Boston, and Hon. Paul Isenberg from Germany. San Francisco papers have reports of what they gathered had been the cause and results of the conference, but they are so far as seen inaccurate in certain details well known here; hence are not deemed worthy of reproducing. From a member of one of the firms most strongly interested in the matter and represented at the conference, the BULLETIN representative has obtained a general idea of the agreement formulated at the conference. It is common knowledge that before the adoption of free raw sugar in the United States our planters were paid for their crops in San Francisco on the basis of New York prices for Cuba centrifugals 96 degrees test with the duty added. When there was no longer any duty to add, the basis was made null. The conference was entered by Hawaiian planters with a view to restoring the New York basis and having certain reductions against them waived by the refining interests. According to the bargain concluded between Mr. Spreckels and the Trust, the Spreckels' interest has had the entire field west of the Rocky Mountains left to itself. Consequently it was necessary for the Hawaiian planters who had surrendered their refining interests on the Coast to the Trust to treat with Mr. Spreckels for a market basis. It was agreed in conference to restore the New York basis and to abate the reductions in question to some extent, although not to the full degree asked for by the planters. There had to be ratification of the agreement from capitalists in the East, which had not come when the steamer sailed. However, from all that can be learned, our planters regard the agreement as likely to stand and to improve their position. The price is the same as at last previous advices—3½c. New York, equal to 2½c. on this side.

CALIFORNIAN ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE.

The Californian Illustrated Magazine for April is beautifully illustrated, over a dozen of its twenty articles being embellished by artistic sketches, making the issue the most elaborately illustrated magazine ever issued west of New York. The success of the magazine has been phenomenal; and beginning with the May number, it will be printed from the same presses as those used by the great Eastern magazines, ordered especially for the purpose. Among the papers of this issue of especial interest is one by Mrs. Helen E. Gregory-Fletcher, A. M., on the Hairy Men of Japan or Anios, one of the most remarkable and little known races.

Consul-General Merry continues his series on the Nicaragua Canal with a richly illustrated paper, showing the work accomplished and its effect on the Pacific Coast.

Miss Herrick writes entertainingly on Honolulu, her article showing fine pictures taken from life of the famous hula dancers as they appeared before the late King.

Prof. Carpenter of Columbia College, N. Y., contributes a weird story of psychological interest, illustrated by striking full page cuts.

Dr. E. L. Holden, of Lick Observatory, tells of the New Star, while the frontispiece of the magazine shows a striking picture of this well-known scientist, who is doing so much to popularize this science.

John Bonner writes on Union Labor, giving some striking facts for thinking people.

The late Citrus Fair at Los Angeles is referred to in an article on the Orange, by M. C. Frederick, fully illustrated.

An article of great interest is on the Recent Discoveries Among the Mound Builders of Ohio by the World's Fair Commission under Prof. Putnam of Harvard, the article being from the pen of his field assistant, Prof. Warren K. Moorehead.

Emily Loud writes on "Shall Teachers be Pensioned?" while other articles are on the gigantic forms of former animal life, the Redwood forests of California, the Presbyterians in California, bear hunting, and others of interest, with the usual book reviews, etc.

Published in San Francisco. $3 per year, 25 cents a number.

IMPROVED STOCK.

Beautiful Polled Angus Cattle Imported Direct by Hon. W. G. Irwin.

By the ship Benmore that arrived at sundown yesterday from Liverpool, G. B., there arrived a herd of four beautiful, thoroughbred Polled Angus cattle for Hon. Wm. G. Irwin. There are two bulls and two cows. They arrived in marvellously fine condition after their 122 days at sea. Their coats are a glossy jet black, as sleek as the jacket of a colic dog. Many people have gone to see the cattle, first on board ship, then in the owner's stable on Queen street, and seeing was only to admire the splendid animals.

Mr. Irwin has also imported by the same ship a pair of highbred pigs, which have also arrived in excellent condition. The pigs appear to feel the change of climate.

Further description of the stock is deferred for want of space.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. Fifty cent bottles for sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents.

WRECKAGE ON THE BAR.

It was the Nauticus and Not the Nautilus Which was Wrecked.

Referring to the statement made in this paper, that the wreckage ran against by the dredge on the harbor bar was supposed to be that of the whaler Nauticus, Mr. A. J. Cartwright says:

"The ship Nauticus, Duncan master, was not wrecked. There never was a Capt. Duncan master of a whaler at Honolulu.

"The ship you speak of was the Nauticon, Capt. W. Luce, of New Bedford. She was wrecked on the 24th of November, 1856, while being towed out of the harbor by the tug Pele, in a southerly gale. Finding the vessel was going ashore and that she was likely to go with her, the Pele cast off the tow line.

"The Nauticon went ashore on the Ewa side of the passage. She did not sink at once, nor at any time. I had charge of the vessel for account of the owners, and employed His Excellency Matthew Kekuanooa to wreck the vessel, giving him a percentage of the oil saved. The oil was all brought safely to shore by kanakas swimming it, and the wreck was subsequently sold at auction."

A RACE FOR LIFE.

The barkentine Mary Winkelman had a narrow escape from being burned at sea on April 10th. Captain Nissen had left San Francisco that day for Honolulu with a general cargo, a large part consisting of some highly inflammable material, including coal oil. After passing the Farallones, one of the sailors noticed smoke issuing from the fore hatch. The captain was notified, the hatch battened and the vessel stood in for shore. The signal of distress was hoisted and the tug Active coming out escorted the vessel into port. "It was a desperate race for life, as when the hatches were opened it was seen that the fire had almost reached the coal oil. Captain Nissen is commended for his heroic conduct, the gait at which he sent his vessel in, with all sails set, being 13 knots.

OBITUARY.

The death is announced in this issue of Mrs. R. W. McChesney, wife of the senior member of the firm of M. W. McChesney & Son, San Francisco and Honolulu. She spent some time in Honolulu three months ago, and when she left her fatal illness had begun to manifest its symptoms. The malady was cancer of the stomach. Mrs. McChesney lived here with her husband for a year or more. One of the sons, J. M., would have reached San Francisco with his bride by the Alameda a few days after his mother's death. The store is closed to day out of respect for Mrs. McChesney's memory. This paper reflects the feeling of the community in extending sympathy to the bereaved husband and family.

HAWAIIAN DIRECTORY.

Mr. F. M. Husted, a well-known directory publisher of the Pacific Coast and formerly of the McKenna Directory Publishing Co., arrived by the steamer Australia. He was interested in the directories of the Hawaiian Islands issued prior to the latest one. His purpose now is to publish a new and complete directory of the kingdom. He will visit every island personally in company with Mr. T. J. Birch, who is considered one of the best directory men on the Coast. Mr. Husted will remain in the kingdom a month to get the canvassing properly started, and Mr. Birch will have general oversight of the canvass. The intention is to make the work a thorough commercial directory.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.

An accident happened to two half-white canterers, Clement and Levi Drew, at Kailua yesterday, which resulted somewhat seriously although not fatally to Levi. They were putting up some woodwork when the staging gave way and both fell heavily some distance to the ground. Clement escaped with but slight scratches, but Drew sustained the fracture of some ribs and other injury which will necessitate his confinement for some time. Levi was picked up and taken to his home on Nuuanu street, where medical assistance was given him.

THE COLUSA WINS.

Shipping men have been on the qui vive with regard to the result of the ocean race between the barks Colusa, commanded by Captain Backus, and Sonoma, by the famous Jack Lee. News was received by the S. S. Australia to-day that the Sonoma was beaten by the Colusa, the former making the passage to 28 days and the latter in 23 days. Although Captain Backus left several hours earlier, Jack Lee admits he was fairly beaten. Considerable money will change hands.

S. S. AUSTRALIA.

The steamer Australia, H. C. Houdlette, commander, sailed from San Francisco, April 12, 1892, with 51 cabin and 24 steerage passengers and 36 bags mail, experienced remarkably fine weather throughout the voyage, arrived at Honolulu April 15th at 8:30 a. m.

A "DARK" WONDER.

A sleek looking sorrel mare, supposed to be a celebrated racer, arrived on the steamer Australia to-day. The animal belongs to Alex. J. Cartwright, Jr., and it is more than probable that she will be entered in the coming Hawaiian Derby.

THE WAY TO 'FRISCO.

Fraternat Fight Over a Knotty Nautical Nut.

At Auwailolu yesterday, in the cool of the evening, two brothers, sailors on different island coasters, were relating to each other occurrences on their different routes. They occasionally took a slap at a "little nigger" in position between them. Their audience consisted of about a dozen or two men, women and children. When they had drawn the audience into a mood of intense interest in their marine yarns, one of them propounded a very troublesome problem in navigation, viz: "What point of the compass would carry a vessel from Honolulu to San Francisco?" The little fellow by this time had received such unmerciful treatment that he could not stand it any longer and began making reprisals. He twitched the mariners' inner regions, causing an irritation that resulted in a mutually disputative disposition. When one gave the solution, "Is-sow-is," the other emphatically opposed that it was "No-no-is." Each having failed to beat the other in boxing the compass without decisive result, they decided to box each other for a change. They showed more proficiency in the battle of muscle than in that of mind. They went at it, hammer and tongs, upsetting everything in the house, and rousing the neighborhood with the thundering noise they made in their rough and tumble combat. It was not long, however, that the younger brother got the elder under, after which a truce was declared. When the reporter was turning to go away he heard one of them making a remark, "You wait till to-morrow when I get sober!"

CARD OF THANKS.

The undersigned treasurer of the Honolulu Sailors' Home Society in acknowledging the receipt of $41.50 in aid of its building fund, desires to thank through this means Capt. Houdlette, and those of his officers and passengers who aided in any way in securing so profitable a result to an evening's entertainment on board the S. S. Australia on her recent trip from San Francisco, given for the benefit of the Sailors' Home.

JOHN H. PATY.
April 19, 1892.

A traveling man who chanced to be in the store of E. V. Wood, at McKees Rocks, Pa., says while he was waiting to see Mr. Wood, a little girl came in with an empty bottle labeled Chamberlain's Pain Balm and said: "Mamma wants another bottle of that medicine; she says it is the best medicine for rheumatism she ever used." 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., Agents.

"August Flower"

Mr. Lorenzo F. Sleeper is very well known to the citizens of Appleton, Me., and neighborhood. He says: "Eight years ago I was taken sick, and suffered as no one but a 'dyspeptic can.' I then began taking August Flower. At that time 'I was a great sufferer. Everything I ate distressed me so that I 'd had to throw it up. Then in a few moments that horrid distress 'would come on and I would have 'to eat and suffer 'again. I took a 'little of your medicine, and felt much 'better, and after 'taking a little more 'August Flower my 'Dyspepsia disappeared, and since that time I 'have never had the first sign of it. 'I can eat anything without the 'least fear of distress. I wish all 'that are afflicted with that terrible 'disease or the troubles caused by 'it would try August Flower, as I 'am satisfied there is no medicine 'equal to it.'"
